

AIKATERINI VASILOPOULOU

University of Ioannina, Department of Physics

ABOUT ME

I was born in Agrinio, a small town in Greece, and I study Physics at the Department of Ioannina. I have a great interest in experimental and applied physics and that is why I decided to follow this path of science. The awe of the unknown pushes you to discover a "new world", the world of physics, and somehow it seduced me too.
